Cleanup continues for area hit by flooding

Neighbor who checked on woman who died said flooding was worse than he expected

BY BOB DEMAREE

Electricity and water service have been restored and a considerable amount of cleanup has been accomplished in areas impacted by last weekend's flash flooding along Brushy Fork Creek. But with a funeral still to be held next week, while some aspects of life are returning to normal, the toll of the deadly disaster is still being felt throughout the region.

"There's going to be a lot to do for a long time to come," Jefferson County Emergency Management Agency Director Troy Morgan said Thursday.

Utility crews have restored services and road crews are working to repair damaged bridges and highways, and the family of Linda Wood has coped with the sad task of planning her funeral and now wants to set the record straight on the events that led to her death sometime Sunday night after flood waters rushed through the family home and carried her down Brushy Fork Creek.

BPWS signs flood mitigation agreement

3.2 million-gallon stormwater detention basin part of project

BY BOB DEMAREE

Madison's Board of Public Works and Safety (BPWS) signed agreements Tuesday for the Sunrise Crossing stormwater detention project costs being shared by the developers of the Sunrise Crossing retail and housing projects and the City of Madison.

The project is designed to combine the Sunrise Crossing economic development project on the hilltop, with stormwater mitigation that will benefit not only the hilltop but the Crooked Creek watershed in downtown Madison where that water ends up en route to the Ohio River. The stormwater detention being constructed at Sunrise Crossing will help mitigate the flood threat to downtown.

"Everything that happens with this impacts what's happening downtown," said Michael Harris, president of engineering company Jacobi, Toombs and Lanz of New Albany. "There's a lot of opportunity with this project."

Harris said there is no city requirement that developers provide stormwater detention "so this has been a commitment on the city's part to stormwater, it's been a commitment on the developers to be good corporate citizens. At the end of the day, they didn't have to do this, so it's been great to see everybody come together to do that."

Harris equated the work that's being done with the detention pond to preparing the city for a "100-year storm event" which he said isn't indication that such a storm event is going to happen once every 100 years, but there is a 1% chance of happening in any one year. However, he said in a 100-year event if nothing were done there would be 431 cubic feet of water per second generated by the Sunrise development alone.

"It's a lot of water," he said.

Once development of the stormwater detention management system is in place, the storm runoff would drop to 229 cubic feet per second, a decrease of almost 50% in the amount of water that will head downtown by Crooked Creek. Harris said such improvements are "unheard of, and it's fantastic." The detention basin will have a peak storage volume of 437.155 cubic feet which is equivalent to 3,270,100 gallons of rainfall that will be detained on the hilltop.

Council hears zoning request for new Culver's

BY MARK CAMPBELL

Madison City Council on Tuesday held the second reading of an amendment to the city's zoning ordinance that would allow a Culver's restaurant to locate at 2481 Franks Drive on the hilltop.

The amendment, previously recommended by the city's Plan Commission after an application and presentation before that board in August, would rezone a 2.45-acre site near the intersection of Franks Drive and Clifty Drive from Low Density Residential to General Business. The proposal includes improvements to the intersection of Franks Drive and Clifty Drive and the nearby access road to Ivy Tech Madison campus plus steps to mitigate storm water runoff in the surrounding neighborhood.

Madison Economic Development Director Tony Steinhardt III said Culver's features a dining experience not currently offered in Madison and the restaurant "should add to our already growing destination shopping strategy

CLEANUP

According to Wood's sister, Kathryn Clayton, Wood was actually on the phone with her husband, Anthony "Tony" Wood, at about the time of the flood — their phone call apparently ending when the flash flood took out phone service in the area. She said she has spoken to the last person to see Wood, neighbor Lewis Fritter, who stopped at Wood's home to check on her and warn her that the water was rising.

In an interview on Thursday, Fritter said he saw Wood getting out of her vehicle and going into her home in 8000 block of Brushy Fork Road at 4:12 p.m. Fritter, who lives on higher ground on Scotts Ridge Road, came to check on her but was never able to get her to come to the door but he could hear a dog barking inside. Fritter said he wasn't sure why she didn't come to the door, whether it's just that she didn't hear him knocking, or another reason, but he left thinking she would be OK.

Fritter said at that time he had no idea the flooding would be as severe as it ended up being. "I've seen it rise and come down in 20 years," he said, noting rainfall in that area was around 4.5 inches but he did not realize that not far away in Switzerland County rainfalls were 9 inches or more with all of that water to soon come down the creek.

"You look back, and if I had known ...," Fritter said, adding that if he had known what was to happen and how bad the flooding would be he would have done things differently. Authorities have said that by 4:30 p.m. the 911 dispatch was receiving calls that the flood was out of control. "You think, what if," Fritter said.

Clayton said there is no indication that Wood was trying to ride out the flood or that she was remaining in the home due to the dogs or any other reason. She said her sister did have mobility issues that could have made answering the door or exiting the home once the flood arrived difficult. She said the tragedy has hit the family hard and it is important to family members and friends that Wood not be remembered as someone who chose to ride out the flood because that would not have been the case.

On Monday, Joel Thacker, executive director of the Indiana State Department of Homeland Security along with Indiana State Fire Marshal Stephen Jones, toured damage along the creek. Further assessment of the damage was done on Tuesday in Jefferson, Switzerland and Ohio counties with that information to be submitted to Gov. Eric Holcomb to make a determination if a request for federal disaster relief will be forwarded to President Joe Biden.

Morgan said he walked the area for three hours on Thursday to survey the status of damage. "The highway department has done a phenomenal job. If they could get it open, it's open," he said. "My hat is off to them. They've amazed me."

What's not open are the most heavily damaged bridges and roads that are in such bad condition that they are simply not safe.

Three county highway bridges remain closed for an indefinite period — Bridge 103 on Brushy Fork Road between the 7500 block of Brushy Fork Road and McCarty Hill Road, Bridge 154 on Dow Ridge Road between Brushy Fork Road and Tate Ridge Road, and Bridge 53 on Brushy Fork Road between Sugan Hollow Road and Tate Ridge Road. All the bridges in the area will have to be inspected.

There are also sections of roads that remain closed — on Dow Ridge Road where a gravel hill road meets Brushy Fork Road, and a section of Brushy Fork Road that meets at Tate Ridge Road.

In addition to the county roads and bridges, Morgan said there are many private bridges washed out or damaged preventing access to homes. "They're not all covered by insurance," he said.

Considerable debris also remains to be cleared including vehicles that landed along the creek. Morgan said the county highway department has been given permission to remove debris from the creek that involves public safety and the preservation of life in opening bridges and roads, but all other work in clearing the creek must have the approval of the Indiana Department of Natural Resources. "There are wood piles, debris piles and cars parked in there," said Morgan, that will remain until permits can be given by the DNR to move forward with cleaning that up.

Morgan said a total of 21 addresses along Brushy Fork Road were affected by the flooding, up from the previously announced 20 and one additional residence was discovered to have damage. He noted two homes were swept away in the flood while others had minor damage, and some sustained damage to sheds, barns, cars, tractors or other items. Other than the death there were no injuries reported in the disaster.

In Switzerland County, the Bennington area was most impacted by the flooding. The State Road 250 bridge over Indian Creek near Pleasant and Bennington was damaged. However, it was evaluated by the state bridge inspector, and deemed structurally stable. The area was repaved and reopened Tuesday.

However, two bridges will remain closed indefinitely in Switzerland County — one at Smith Ridge and one at Parks Ridge, both near on Bennington Pike. Roads remaining closed include Sgt. Kenneth Booker, Brown Road and the lower end of Popcorn Ridge (the section near Plum Creek Road).

Morgan said water service was restored Tuesday to the Brushy Fork area after repairs by the Canaan Water Company of a water main break in the 7500 block of Brush Fork Road. Electricity was back on Sunday to the appreciation of local residents like Barbara Mays, who had high praise for the work done by the REMC to quickly restore power.

"I really appreciate REMC for the work they did," said May, who saw her power restored by 7 p.m. Sunday.

Other groups also pitched in to help those impacted by the flooding. In Switzerland County, the Pacers high school football team repaired a bridge that connects one home to the highway. In a matter of three hours, Ryan Jesop's players, coaches and other volunteers took apart broken boards and replaced them with new ones to repair the bridge.

Fundraisers have been created to help those impacted by the storm. One is to help cover funeral expense for Wood and to help rebuild the flood damaged home. Another is for a 74-year old woman who lost her concrete creek crossing that had been in place 34 years while a third is for Elisha and Kenny Bennett, who lost most everything except their home, with insurance insufficient to cover the loss.

In midst of the flash flooding last Saturday in eastern Jefferson County, Madison Township Fire Department was involved in a water rescue in the western part of the county on Big Clifty Creek off Sage Lane near Deputy Pike. Kent Volunteer Fire Department was dispatched to the scene and requested assistance from Madison Township to rope rescue a female kayaker who was stranded on one side of the creek stuck between water and a rock cliff.

Madison Township Chief Robert Black said it was "a very challenging rescue" because it was at night, beginning at 10 p.m., and it took more than an hour to get to the kayaker through woods and a soy bean field. Black said it was 40 feet down a slope to the cliff and then a 60-foot drop straight down to the kayaker.

"She wasn't injured. She just had no where to go to get out," he said.

Black said a firefighter had to go over the cliff in a harness, and then put the kayaker in a harness for recovery. "It took a while with how far she was down in there,"

He said the rescue was completed by 12:15 a.m. and that Madison and Kent fire departments were assisted by one firefighter from Hanover Volunteer Fire Department.

She was the loving daughter of Robert Gotts and the late Marjorie Ann Bryan Gotts. She was raised in Friendship, Indiana and attended South Ripley High School. In May of 1985, Linda was united in Marriage to Anthony "Tony" Wood. This marriage was blessed to raise three sons, Dereck Ray, Joshua Allen, and Anthony Shane. She was a homemaker most of her life. Linda worked for Longaberger as a weaver, UPS in Versailles, and as a nurses aid for several years. Linda also went with her husband Tony when he drove the semi and traveled around the country. Linda drove for the Amish and enjoyed her conversations and time with them. She loved reading, traveling with her husband, swimming in her pool, and her ponies. She enjoyed being with her family and loved when they would come over. She was of the Christian faith and read her bible daily. Linda was a devoted wife, mother, grandma, sister, and aunt. Linda was found deceased on Sunday, September 4, 2022, at 5:26 a.m. after the flash flooding near her home near Madison, Indiana.

A LOVING FAMILY

Linda will be missed by her loving husband, Anthony Clyde "Tony" Wood of Manville, Indiana; her sons, Derek Ray Gotts and his wife Joanne of Madison, Indiana, Joshua Allen Gotts of Versailles, Indiana, Anthony Shane Wood and his companion Amy of Madison, Indiana; her grandchildren, Joshua Wesley Gotts, Kyle Gotts, John Henry Gotts, Autumn Gail Wood, and Lennon Wood; her father, Robert Gotts of Madison, Indiana; her sisters, Kathryn Clayton and her husband Tim of Commiskey, Indiana, and Susan Sizemore of Madison, Indiana; her brothers, Thomas Gotts and his wife Sandy of Arlington, Washington, and David Gotts and his wife Melissa of North Vernon, Indiana; her sister in laws, Connie Barker and her husband Scott of Washington, Penny Marie Hernandez of Madison, Indiana, Julia Jarrell and her husband Phillip of Louisiana, and Alma Hanaway of North Vernon, Indiana; her nieces and nephews, Tim Jr., Neil, Rosie, Alec, Jordan, Roger, Michaela, Tucker, Logan, Crystal, Adriano, Bradley, Lylia, Ava, Marissa, Esmeralda, Kimberlee, Ximena, Kiera, Emily, and Mia. She was preceded in death by her mother, Marjorie Ann Bryan Gotts, died December 31, 2013, and her niece, Tabitha Ann Doss Flores, died May 12, 2019.

TODAY IN HISTORY

TODAY'S HIGHLIGHT IN HISTORY:

On Sept. 10, 1813, an American naval force commanded by Oliver H. Perry defeated the British in the Battle of Lake Erie during the War of 1812. (Afterward, Perry sent the message, "We have met the enemy and they are ours.")

ON THIS DATE:

In 1608, John Smith was elected president of the Jamestown colony council in Virginia.

In 1846, Elias Howe received a patent for his sewing machine.

In 1960, Hurricane Donna, a dangerous Category 4 storm eventually blamed for 364 deaths, struck the Florida Keys.

In 1962, the U.S. Supreme Court ordered the University of Mississippi to admit James Meredith, a Black student.

In 1963, 20 Black students entered Alabama public schools following a standoff between federal authorities and Gov. George C. Wallace.

In 1979, four Puerto Rican nationalists imprisoned for a 1954 attack on the U.S. House of Representatives and a 1950 attempt on the life of President Harry S. Truman were freed from prison after being granted clemency by President Jimmy Carter.

In 1987, Pope John Paul II arrived in Miami, where he was welcomed by President Ronald Reagan and first lady Nancy Reagan as he began a 10-day tour of the United States.

In 1991, the Senate Judiciary Committee opened hearings on the nomination of Clarence Thomas to the U.S. Supreme Court.

In 1998, President Clinton met with members of his Cabinet to apologize, ask forgiveness and promise to improve as a person in the wake of the Monica Lewinsky scandal.

In 2005, Cadaver dogs and boatloads of forensic workers fanned out across New Orleans to collect the corpses left behind by Hurricane Katrina; cleanup crews towed away abandoned cars and even began readying a hotel for reopening.

In 2015, New York State approved gradually raising the minimum wage for fast-food workers to $15 an hour — the first time any state had set the minimum that high.

In 2016, John Hinckley Jr., the man who tried to assassinate President Ronald Reagan in 1981, was released from a Washington mental hospital for good. (Hinckley would be freed from all court oversight in June 2022.)

Ten years ago: An airstrike killed al-Qaida's No. 2 leader in Yemen along with six others traveling with him in a breakthrough for U.S.-backed efforts to cripple the terror network's operations in the impoverished Arab nation. Chicago teachers began a seven-day strike, idling nearly 400,000 students in the nation's third-largest school district. Andy Murray became the first British man since 1936 to capture a Grand Slam title, beating defending champion Novak Djokovic, 7-6 (10), 7-5, 2-6, 3-6, 6-2 to win the U.S. Open in five grueling sets.

Five years ago: After cutting a trail of destruction across the Caribbean, Hurricane Irma blew ashore on the Florida Keys as a Category 4 storm with winds of 130 mph; it would destroy 1,200 homes and damage 3,000 others in the Keys. As Irma headed toward Georgia, Atlanta was under a tropical storm warning for the first time. As he flew home from Colombia, Pope Francis called on President Donald Trump to rethink his decision ending a program protecting young immigrants from deportation; he said anyone who considers himself "pro-life" should keep families together. Miss North Dakota, Cara Mund, was crowned Miss America in Atlantic City, N.J., after saying in an onstage interview that President Donald Trump was wrong to pull the United States out of the Paris climate accord.

One year ago: Republican leaders threatened responses ranging from lawsuits to civil disobedience after President Joe Biden's aggressive push to require millions of American workers to get vaccinated against the coronavirus. New U.S. studies showed that COVID-19 vaccines remained highly effective against hospitalizations and death, even when dealing with the extra-contagious delta variant. A judge ruled that a 19-year-old Wisconsin woman who admitted to helping stab a classmate when she was 12 years old to please online horror character Slender Man could be freed from a mental health institution where she had spent nearly four years.

Today's Birthdays: Actor Greg Mullavey is 89. Jazz vibraphonist Roy Ayers is 82. Actor Tom Ligon is 82. Singer Danny Hutton (Three Dog Night) is 80. Singer Jose Feliciano is 77. TODAY IN HISTORY

TODAY'S HIGHLIGHT IN HISTORY:

On Sept. 12, 1977, South African Black student leader and anti-apartheid activist Steve Biko (BEE'-koh), 30, died while in police custody, triggering an international outcry.

ON THIS DATE:

In 1913, Olympic legend Jesse Owens was born in Oakville, Alabama.

In 1914, during World War I, the First Battle of the Marne ended in an Allied victory against Germany.

In 1958, the U.S. Supreme Court, in Cooper v. Aaron, unanimously ruled that Arkansas officials who were resisting public school desegregation orders could not disregard the high court's rulings.

In 1959, the Soviet Union launched its Luna 2 space probe, which made a crash landing on the moon. The TV Western series "Bonanza" premiered on NBC.

In 1962, in a speech at Rice University in Houston, President John F. Kennedy reaffirmed his support for the manned space program, declaring: "We choose to go to the moon in this decade and do the other things, not because they are easy, but because they are hard."

In 1987, reports surfaced that Democratic presidential candidate Joseph Biden had borrowed, without attribution, passages of a speech by British Labour Party leader Neil Kinnock (KIHN'-ik) for one of his own campaign speeches. (The Kinnock report, along with other damaging revelations, prompted Biden to drop his White House bid.)

In 1995, the Belarusian military shot down a hydrogen balloon during an international race, killing its two American pilots, John Stuart-Jervis and Alan Fraenckel.

In 2001, stunned rescue workers continued to search for bodies in the World Trade Center's smoking rubble a day after a terrorist attack that shut down the financial capital, badly damaged the Pentagon and left thousands dead. President George W. Bush, branding the attacks in New York and Washington "acts of war," spoke of "a monumental struggle of good versus evil" and said that "good will prevail."

In 2005, Federal Emergency Management Agency director Mike Brown resigned, three days after losing his onsite command of the Hurricane Katrina relief effort.

In 2008, a Metrolink commuter train struck a freight train head-on in Los Angeles, killing 25 people. (Federal investigators said the Metrolink engineer, Robert Sanchez, who was among those who died, had been text-messaging on his cell phone and ran a red light shortly before the crash.)

In 2011, Novak Djokovic beat defending champion Rafael Nadal 6-2, 6-4, 6-7 (3), 6-1 to win his first U.S. Open championship.

Ten years ago: The U.S. dispatched an elite group of Marines to Tripoli, Libya, after the mob attack in Benghazi that killed the U.S. ambassador and three other Americans. President Barack Obama strongly condemned the violence, and vowed to bring the killers to justice; Republican challenger Mitt Romney accused the administration of showing weakness in the face of tumultuous events in the Middle East.

Five years ago: Crews worked to repair the lone highway connecting the Florida Keys, where 25 percent of the homes were feared to have been destroyed by Hurricane Irma; more than 9 million Floridians, or nearly half the state's population, were still without power in the late-summer heat. Seattle Mayor Ed Murray announced that he was resigning amid sex abuse allegations. Gay rights pioneer Edith Windsor, whose landmark Supreme Court case struck down parts of a federal anti-gay-marriage law, died in New York at the age of 88.

One year ago: Novak Djokovic's bid for the first calendar-year Grand Slam in men's tennis since 1969 ended with a loss to Daniil Medvedev in the U.S. Open final. Tailgating, face-painted fans returned in full force at stadiums around the country as the NFL opened its doors to capacity for the first time since the coronavirus pandemic. Lil Nas X won video of the year at the MTV Video Music Awards, on a night that saw Justin Bieber triumphantly return to the stage as a performer and as winner of the artist of the year. Max Scherzer of the Los Angeles Dodgers became the 19th pitcher in major league history with 3,000 career strikeouts; he also carried a perfect game into the eighth inning of a game against the San Diego Padres.

Today's Birthdays: Actor Linda Gray is 82. Singer Maria Muldaur is 80. Actor Joe Pantoliano is 71. Singer-musician Gerry Beckley (America) is 70. Original MTV VJ Nina Blackwood is 70. Former Kansas Gov. Sam Brownback is 66. Actor Rachel Ward is 65. Actor Amy Yasbeck is 60. Rock musician Norwood Fisher (Fishbone) is 57. Actor Darren E. Burrows is 56. Rock singer-musician Ben Folds (Ben Folds Five) is 56. Actor-comedian Louis (loo-ee) C.K. is 55.

Hanover names consultant to study hotel feasibility

BY BOB DEMAREE

Hanover Town Board is tentatively moving forward with a hotel feasibility study and has approved an $8,500 contract with Hotel R&D LLC contingent on being able to spend American Rescue Plan funds for that purpose.

The board endorsed the plan at Tuesday's meeting pending a decision on the town's American Rescue Plan funds, which town attorney Devon Sharpe is expected to have finalized for the council to approve at its next board meeting.

The town received three proposals for the study including $10,800 from Patek Hospitality Consultants of Sussex, Wisconsin, and $13,900 from Revpar Consultants of Alexandria, Virginia, and opted for the Hotel R&D LLC bid as the lowest of the three.

"They were all three really good at what they're going to do," said council president Kenny Garrett, but Hotel R&D LLC of Oshkosh, Wisconsin, offered the best price.

The decision to fund the feasibility study follows recent interest by Cobblestone Hotel and Suites in possibly developing a hotel property in Hanover.

IN OTHER BUSINESS

• A public hearing was held on updated water rates and charges after the state legislature required state municipalities to eliminate the utility receipts tax, lowering the town's rates. In the regular meeting, the town council passed the first reading of a water rate ordinance.

• Approved a Quit Claim Deed which establishes that Hanover Community Park will not be used for any purpose other than a park for outdoor recreation. The stipulation is needed as part of the town's application for a federal Land and Water Conservation Fund grant through the Indiana Department of Natural Resources.

• Approved hiring Daniel Thornton as full-time maintenance and groundskeeper for Hanover Parks Department. Last week, the town hired Megan Varble as the event coordinator for the parks department and Tuesday was her first day. "It's a great honor to be a part of the Hanover Parks Department," said Varble, noting that over the last two years she's seen Hanover parks become "a place where children and adults can come together. My hope is to build on the foundation that been established."

• In the Parks Board meeting, Parks Director Scott Davidson said four teams are participating in the inaugural Hanover women's fall softball league. He also said upgrades to Rainbow Park are nearly complete. "I think the equipment is in place. They actually concreted it last week" and mulch is to be added in the next few days. Davidson noted that since he started as parks director at the end of 2020, Rainbow Park has seen a "total transformation."

• The town council is seeking resident feedback as the town develops it's five-year plan and is encouraging participation in a public hearing that will be held prior to the next town council meeting at 6 p.m. on Tuesday, Sept. 20.

ZONING

on the hilltop here in Madison." He said that franchise ownership will be on-site and live in the community and the company has a corporate culture that is supportive of the community and its nonprofits.

"We believe it is the highest and best use for this large parcel of undeveloped land on Clifty Drive," Steinhardt said. "We have been working to be good neighbors with the Culver's developers and those neighbors and addressing many of the concerns. Again, nothing will ever be as nice potentially as a vacant lot for those neighbors but we as good citizens want to try to make sure the economic impact to our broader community is also felt so we've been working with them in terms of light, sound, traffic and water drainage concerns and trying to mitigate those impacts as much as possible ... resolving the neighbor drainage issues and more importantly to improve an intersection and traffic issues with the Redevelopment Commission's full support."

Steinhardt said the city's Redevelopment Commission has funded a traffic study at the intersection in an effort to design a better flow for vehicles in that area. He said one issue to be determined is whether the intersection needs a three-way or two-way stop or how to reconfigure Franks Drive south of Clifty Drive to allow more vehicles to be cued at that traffic light since currently there is room for only one vehicle.

Merritt Alcorn, attorney for Culver's, said the restaurant will be about a $2.1 million development and expects to employ more than 100 workers operating from 10 a.m. to 11 p.m. in the summer and 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. in the winter.

The proposed building would be identical to the Culver's located in Seymour, Indiana, but the footprint of the overall site would be slightly smaller. The design of the restaurant and drive through combined with noise and light shields and landscaping should mitigate the site's impact on the neighborhood while the redesign of the intersection should go a long way toward improving what has been an awkward flow of traffic to and from Franks Drive to Clifty Drive.

Neighbors John and Lynn Flathers, 2493 Franks Drive, spoke against the zoning amendment noting the restaurant will be 200 feet from their bedroom and noise from the drive through and lights from the restaurant and vehicles will be a nuisance to home life and negatively impact the value of nearby homes.

Bob Owens, construction manager for Culver's, said steps are being taken to lessen that impact and Alcorn said developers are "very open to ideas and suggestions."

At the end of Tuesday's discussion, a motion and second was made to suspend the council's rules and move directly to a third reading, which would have allowed the council to immediately vote on the issue itself. However, the vote on the motion to suspend the rules was 5-2 with Council members Dan Dattilo and Lucy Dattilo opposing so the third reading will now be scheduled for the council's meeting on Sept. 20.

IN OTHER BUSINESS

• The council approved an ordinance establishing a Redevelopment Authority, an amendment to the ordinance pertaining to the city's Historic District Guidelines, and an ordinance to comply with the 10-year redistricting of council districts.

The Redevelopment Authority will serve as the funding mechanism for financing reconstruction of Crystal Beach pool through a bond issue, the Historic District Guidelines are a long overdue update of that ordinance impacting preservation of the downtown historic district and the redistricting, required by state law, involves looking at the city's population and if it is balanced among the city's five council districts. While Madison's population has grown in the past 10 years, the population was determined to still be balanced so the existing boundaries were recertified for another 10 years.

• Approved a proclamation making Sept 17-23 Constitution Week. Marilyn Hutchison of the local DAR chapter, said 71 revolutionary war veterans have been confirmed in Jefferson County and there are probably more.

• Received a visit by State Rep. Randy Frye for presentation of House resolution on Acts of Heroism to local law enforcement officers involved in a life-saving rescue at a house fire on Walnut Street in July.

• Received notice from Mayor Bob Courtney that David Sutter has been appointed to the city's Redevelopment Commission returning that board to full membership.

BPWS

He said the work "does not fix the issue but it certainly is a piece of what needs to be done to help alleviate some of that flooding down stream."

Madison Mayor Bob Courtney cited the importance of stormwater management following recent flash flooding events — including the disaster that struck the Brushy Fork Creek area of Jefferson County over Labor Day weekend and from Crooked Creek in downtown Madison last year. "Improving our stormwater management has been a high priority," Courtney said. "Having stormwater run unabated can be a real problem."

Courtney said stormwater management has not received much consideration during past developments in the city but Sunrise Crossing is an opportunity to partner with a developer to fix problems long overdue.

"I think it's great the city, our engineers and our partners are looking at this thoughtfully," Courtney said. "It's also part of a broader strategy we're working on through building and planning, and our utility group in regards to evaluating all our stormwater control policies and our plans."

He said that includes a study currently being done by the Army Corp of Engineers. "We're optimistic that the information we get from the Corps in the next few months will give us solutions to explore so we can mitigate future flooding ... Anything we can do to prevent flooding, flash flooding in particular, we have to do. I'm really happy to see that the capacity of the stormwater detention basin is even larger than what we talked about in the very beginning of the project."

Two agreements were approved by the Board of Public Works and Safety — the project detention stormwater agreement with the developers and detention plan inspection and maintenance plan.

The total cost for the detention is $377,253 which the two developers — Winterwood Incorporated (housing) and CRM companies (retail) — are sharing. Tony Steinhardt III, the city's economic development director, said the city will provide piping for the stormwater work at a cost of about $200,000. With that, Steinhardt said the project will total city and private investment of nearly $600,000 towards stormwater management.

"We can't build this detention basin quick enough," said Courtney. "It's part of that global strategy we have, particularly with bringing solutions to the Crooked Creek watershed."

Who Gets Your Annuity If You Die

Layin' it on the line

By Stephen Dybwad
Retirement Planning/
Wealth Management

If you buy an annuity and die, the insurance company keeps your money! We have all seen and heard that broad statement. Is it true?

No.
Here is a secret about insurance companies that puts everything in perspective. Insurance companies do not make decisions based on individuals; they make decisions based on a large pool of people.

Their tool? The Commissioners Standard Ordinary Mortality Table, known as CSO. The statistical table allows insurance companies to know precisely how many people in a specific age group will die nationally. It is not a guess, and it is pure science.

This table is so important because it allows insurance companies to set rates for calculating retirement benefits for anyone at any age.

For example, let's estimate that a male age 65 with $100,000 in a retirement account could receive $600 a month for life. Insurance companies know precisely statistically how many men age 65 will live and die each year; they also know the life expectancy for a male age 65 is 20.5 years.

What happens if an individual age 65 lives until age 100? What happens to the retirement funds placed in the annuity? Did it stop at his life expectancy? (85.5 years) No, it continued until his ultimate death. Annuity payments for life are fully guaranteed, and the insurance company will continue to pay and pay and pay.

How can they do that? Knowing how many men age 65 will die each year would mean that another manage 65 didn't live until life expectancy.

It is called the Law of Large Numbers. The man who died early, did the insurance company keep his unused funds? No, all remaining funds for anyone who dies prematurely will be returned intact to the annuitants named beneficiary. All the instance company makes is the extra yield from the original deposit; no insurance company will ever profit from death.

So what is the lie? Those who do not understand how an annuity works or a competitor in the annuity industry will use half-truths to gain a competitive advantage over a prospect that is not fully informed.

Annuities mean guarantees, which can mean lifetime income without fear of losing the retirement benefit. Annuities should be considered when planning the foundation of your retirement plan. They layer guaranteed income on top of your social security benefits and your pension retirement income to form the basis of your retirement.

Also, avoid any costs or delays in transferring your annuity value at your death to anyone you wish; name a beneficiary; it is easy. Steve Dybwad is a member of Syndicated Columnists, a national organization committed to a fully transparent approach to money management.

VOLLEYBALL ROUNDUP

Madison dominates East Central in a four-set win

BY THE COURIER STAFF

Madison volleyball picked up a big win over East Central in four sets at home on Wednesday.

Other than a second set where the Cubs struggled, Madison was in complete control of the match and walked away with the 25-10, 17-25, 25-13, 25-14 victory.

"We bounced back from a tough loss last night. A much improved effort," Madison coach Camille Crim said. "I'm proud of how we played."

Lexi Sullivan had an impressive match at the service line, going 28-for-30 with three aces while also recording 12 digs.

Chloe Preocanin had 21 kills and was 11-for-12 serving with two aces and 15 digs, Kallie Eder was 11-for-11 serving with an ace, eight kills and 12 digs, Lily Canida was 10-of-11 serving with two aces and nine kills, Hannah Dart was 13-for-14 serving with an ace, 26 assists and 13 digs, and Claire Slygh was 12-for-12 serving.

Madison, now 6-7 on the season, travels to Rock Creek today and heads to Lanesville on Monday.

The Cubs travel to Scottsburg on Tuesday.

BOYS SOCCER ROUNDUP

Pacers get hot in 2nd half to beat Jac-Cen-Del

BY THE COURIER STAFF

Class A No. 9 Switzerland County recorded its sixth clean sheet in eight matches with a 4-0 win over Jac-Cen-Del in boys soccer at home on Wednesday.

The Pacers led just 1-0 at halftime but opened up offensively over the next 40 minutes to blow open the game. Switzerland held a 21-9 advantage in overall shots and 19-6 on goal.

"This was a very good win for the Pacers. Jac-Cen-Del has had very close games against some of the better teams in the area. The Eagles had been within two goals against every other team they have played whether they have won or lost," Switzerland coach David Todd said. "Offensively the Pacers put continued pressure on the opponent and were very efficient. Defensively, the Pacers recorded their sixth shutout in eight games having given up two goals this season."

Levi Curlin and Cooper Todd each had a goal and an assist to lead the Pacers while Aiden Griffth and Ashton Purvis each had a goal and Carson Griffith and Austin Johns each had an assist.

Switzerland, now 8-0 overall and and 6-0 in the Ohio River Valley Conference, travel to Greensburg on Saturday and head to Milan on Monday.

CARROLL BOYS BEAT GALLATIN

Brandon Jemenez scored the only goal Carroll County would need as the Panthers defeated Gallatin County 1-0 in boys soccer Wednesday at home.

Darwin Morataya had the assist while keeper Cole Brown stopped five shots in goal while posting the shutout.

Carroll, now 3-5 overall, improves to 2-1 in 31st District play.

The Panthers travel to Grant County on Saturday and head to Owen County on Monday.

CUBS PLAY TO 1-1 DRAW

Madison played defending sectional champion South Dearborn to a 1-1 draw in boys soccer on Thursday in Aurora.

The Knights had taken an early lead on a goal by freshman Gage Harris off an assist by junior Brodie Teke. Madison battled back and got the equalizer on a second half penalty kick by Harrison Hall after a Knights hand ball in the box.

The Cubs, now 4-2-1 on the season, travel to North Harrison today and head to Seymour next Thursday.

SHAWE, MILAN FINISH 0-0

Shawe and Milan finished in a 0-0 tie in boys soccer Thursday in Milan.

Shawe, now 7-1-1 overall and 1-1-1 in the ORVC, hosts Class A No. 14 Southwestern on Monday.

GIRLS SOCCER ROUNDUP

Young's hat trick leads Carroll over Gallatin

BY THE COURIER STAFF

Carroll County's all-time goals leader Chloe Young added three more goals to her career total Wednesday to lead the Panthers to a 5-2 win over Gallatin County in girls soccer.

Alyssa Horner and Reagan Matthews each added goals for the Panthers while Laila Miller made 13 saves in goal.

Carroll, now 6-3 overall and 3-0 in 31st District play, travels to Grant County today and heads to Owen County on Monday.

NO. 9 PACERS ROLL TO EASY WIN

Switzerland County's ninth-ranked girls soccer team posted its seventh shutout win in eight matches with an 8-0 whitewash of South Ripley in Versailles on Thursday.

The Pacers have now outscored opponents 52-1 on the season while winning all eight matches they have played.

Now 6-0 in the Ohio River Valley Conference, Switzerland County hosts Rising Sun on Tuesday.

REBELS FALL TO SCOTTSBURG

Southwestern girls soccer lost 3-0 at home to Scottsburg on Thursday.

Alexis Akers, Isabella Campbell and Vicki Arney scored for the Warriorettes.

"Cambryn Bryant played a great game. We lost 3-0 but I was encouraged to see many of our girls playing better," Southwestern coach Nancy Totten said.

Southwestern, now 1-4 on the season, hosts Rising Sun on Monday.

CUBS DROPPED BY PROVIDENCE

Providence proved to be too much for Madison to handle as the Class A No. 2 Pioneers rolled to a 6-0 win in girls soccer Thursday in Clarksville.

Providence got two goals by Molly Richards in the match with Brooklyn Stemle, Kamden Pierce and Alli Wade adding markers.

Madison, now 6-3 on the season, travels to Class A No. 8 Oldenburg Academy on Monday and hosts Jeffersonville on Thursday.

Carvana to sponsor Johnson during 2023 race season

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

MONTEREY, Calif. — Jimmie Johnson announced Friday that sponsor Carvana has agreed to fund next year's racing endeavors and the seven-time NASCAR champion will use the next few weeks to determine his 2023 schedule.

Johnson just a week ago said he was still seeking funding for a full IndyCar season. But he's also impatiently awaiting IndyCar's upcoming schedule because he wants to be part of NASCAR's special project to take a Hendrick Motorsports entry to the 24 Hours of Le Mans.

He hasn't closed the door on running another NASCAR race some day, and explained at Laguna Seca Raceway that he has multiple offers to compete in a variety of motorsports series.

"The great news is Carvana is behind me in whatever I choose to do," Johnson said. "They support their desire to be with me in whatever choices I choose to make in 2023."

Johnson has tried to be patient the last several months as he awaited sponsorship decisions. He spent almost his entire NASCAR career with one sponsor until Lowe's left the sport and Ally picked up the final two years of Johnson's career.

He made the decision to retire from NASCAR after the 2020 season and pursue his childhood dream of competing in IndyCar. He found Carvana on his own and took the funding to Chip Ganassi Racing, where Johnson spent his first season running only IndyCar's oval and road courses.

It was a steep learning curve for the NASCAR champion, and this year he added the Indianapolis 500 and the remainder of the ovals in his first full IndyCar season. He has been very good on the ovals and dazzled at his first Indy 500 by turning laps over 240 mph in qualifying but he still struggles on road and street courses.

Southwestern girls win pre-ORVC cross country

BY THE COURIER STAFF

Shawe's Calli Alderman and Southwestern's girls each ran to victory in the pre-Ohio River Valley Conference cross country meet Thursday at Hanover College.

The meet serves as a preview of the upcoming ORVC championships, which will be held on the same course. Every ORVC school but Switzerland County sent a team to the event.

Alderman crossed the line in 21:30.3 to win the girls race by 20 seconds, but she was the only Hilltoppers to run in the top half of the field. Southwestern, meanwhile, placed all six of its runners in the top 11 to score 30 points and win the race going away.

Olivia Simpson led Southwestern by running second overall in 21:50.7. Victoria Gammons was sixth in 23:03.2, Kinston Long was seventh in 23:34.5, Addison Nussbaum was ninth in 25:01.7, Claudia Oliver was 10th in 25:37.3, and Riley Zellers was 11th in 25:48.0.

Other times for Shawe were: Kristyna Vaskova, 18th, 28:11.4; Yolett Perez, 22nd, 34:35.0; Berkeley Neuman, 23rd, 34:46.2 and Cassidy Nott, 25th, 35:26.5.

Rising Sun finished second in the girls race with 51 points, South Ripley was third with 69 and Shawe was fourth with 71. Jac-Cen-Del and Milan did not field complete teams.

Southwestern finished third by just one point in the boys race, scoring 52 points to Rising Sun's 51. Milan won the event with 32 points, South Ripley was fourth with 77, Jac-Cen-Del was fifth with 117 and Shawe did not field a complete team.

Times for the Southwestern boys were: Joe Drossart, third, 18:35.7; Caden Ream, eighth, 19:40.0; Landon Higgins, 10th, 19:47.1; Braylin Miller, 18th, 20:42.6; Connor Johnson, 19th, 20:51.3; Caleb Seals, 27th, 22:08.5; Alex Hitchcock, 31st, 24:16.9; Christian Killey, 32nd, 25:23.4; Elliot Brooks, 33rd, 25:25.2; Ashton Crumley, 38th, 27:17.4; and Gage Pennington, 39th, 27:25.4.

Sam Fewell placed fifth for Shawe in 19:08.9 and Wyatt Lundergan was 14th in 20:20.0.

Southwestern competes in the Jac-Cen-Del Invitational today. Shawe's next meet is at Eastern (Pekin) on Tuesday.

Madison golf posts win over Shawe

BY THE COURIER STAFF

A week after losing to Shawe, Madison turned the tables with a 202-216 victory at Sunrise Golf Course on Wednesday.

The match was actually a four-way affair with Scottsburg placing third with a 237 and Silver Creek fourth with a 256.

Madison's Grace Bronkella shot a 40 to take low-medalist honors while Emmi Dowell had a 46, Lilly Fox carded a 57, Riley Poling a 59 and Ally Wilson a 62.

Kira Wells shot a 45 to lead Shawe, Yolett Perez had a 47, Bailey Kilgore a 54 and Cassidy Nott a 70.

"We were short-handed yet again tonight. With sectional a week and a half away, we need everybody to get as much time on the course as possible if we want to have a chance to advance to regional," Shawe coach David Hertz said. "The girls that were here tonight played hard and I'm proud of their effort. But to be our best, we need that effort from everybody."

Madison hosted Jennings County on Thursday and hosts Shawe, Southwestern and Switzerland County next Tuesday.

STARK LEADS LADY RAIDERS

Trimble County girls golf posted a score of 249 to beat Gallatin County at Cardinal Hills Golf Course on Wednesday.

Senior Maddi Stark led Trimble with a 42, which was good for medalist. Jaelyn Holbrook had a 59, Kendal Holbrook a 66 and Kynlee McIntyre an 82.

On Thursday, Trimble lost to Owen County. Stark shot a 41 to once again claim medalist.

Trimble competes in the North Central Kentucky Conference Championships at Cardinal Hills on Tuesday.

CARROLL BOYS DEFEAT DEMONS

Carroll County boys golf recorded a score of 169 to beat Williamstown on Wednesday.

Connor Mefford paced the Panthers with a 39 while Ayden Taylor had a 42, Branon Battaglia a 43 and Dustin Battaglia a 45.

Carroll traveled to Walton-Verona on Thursday and competes in the North Central Kentucky Conference championships at Cardinal Hills on Tuesday.

TRIMBLE BOYS FALL TO GALLATIN

Trimble County boys golf drops a 180-198 decision to Gallatin County on Thursday.

Charlie Liter led the Raiders with a 45.

Trimble competes in the North Central Kentucky Conference Championships at Cardinal Hills on Tuesday.

Southwestern tennis sweeps Madison 5-0

BY THE COURIER STAFF

Southwestern picked up a straight-sets win over its county rival Madison in boys tennis Wednesday in Hanover.

Ryan set to make his debut for Colts

BY KRISTIE RIEKEN
ASSOCIATED PRESS

HOUSTON — Matt Ryan is ready for his next challenge as he prepares for his debut with the Indianapolis Colts Sunday against the Houston Texans after spending his entire 14-year career in Atlanta.

And he admitted this week that even after 222 career starts, he still gets fired up for every game.

"Even from when you're a kid, that first one of the year — there's just so much buildup to it that's different than other weeks," Ryan said. "You're definitely excited, and obviously for me being in a new spot and a new routine this week, all those things, it feels good that it's here. I'm ready to go."

As Ryan tries to help the Colts end a streak of eight straight losses in openers, coach Frank Reich was asked if thinks the quarterback has something to prove after the Falcons moved on from him.

"I have no doubt he feels like that," Reich said. "I have no doubt we all feel like that, every one of our players. I hope Matt (Ryan) feels like that."

He'll face a familiar foe in new Texans coach Lovie Smith, who was hired this offseason to replace David Culley, who lasted one season. Ryan's history facing Smith goes all the way back to 2008 when he coached the Bears.

"Having played against him 15 years ago and playing against him this week, they are going to be disciplined, they are going to be aggressive with trying to get the ball out," Ryan said. "They've always done a great job at creating turnovers."

Smith knows his team will have its hands full in defending Ryan with a revamped secondary that will feature two rookie starters. Third overall pick Derek Stingley will start at cornerback and second-round selection Jalen Pitre is starting at one of the safety positions.

"Played against him quite a few times and he's been one of the best quarterbacks in our league," Smith said. "He can make all the throws. ... He knows the game, smart. It's not like we're going to trick him an awful lot."

The Texans are hoping to perform much better against the Colts than they did last year, when they lost two games by a combined score of 62-3.

"Your opener is against a team that really embarrassed you last year," receiver Brandin Cooks said. "You don't forget, but you don't let that cloud and gray affect what you have to get done. You still have to focus on the details and don't get too carried away on necessarily revenge."

Defending NFL rushing champion Jonathan Taylor can't wait for Sunday to arrive. Indy held its workhorse back out of all three preseason games and he hasn't taken a hit in months.

Taylor, of course, has carried a heavy workload over the past five years — so much so that some draft analysts questioned whether the former Wisconsin star had too much wear and tear on his legs. But he only seems to be getting stronger.

Not only did he post a league-leading 1,811 yards rushing last season, he also led the NFL with 18 touchdown runs and his 20 total TDs were tied with Austin Ekeler for the league high.

"I haven't played football since January, so I'm really excited to get out there and play," Taylor said Thursday.

Rookie fourth-round pick Dameon Pierce used an outstanding camp to climb the depth chart and will start Sunday at running back for Houston.

The hard-running Pierce was so impressive in the preseason that the Texans cut veteran Marlon Mack, who entered camp as the presumed starter. Pierce joined the Texans after a four-year career at Florida where he ran for 1,806 yards and 23 touchdowns.

He'll try to turn around a running game that has been among the NFL's worst the past two seasons.

"He's earned the right to line up there with the (starters) the first snap and I'm anxious to see him play," Smith said.

Indy's defense was second in takeaways last season and ninth in points allowed. The Colts' offseason additions could help them play even better this season.

New defensive coordinator Gus Bradley inherited three Pro Bowlers — defensive tackle DeForest Buckner, linebacker Shaquille Leonard and cornerback Kenny Moore II.

Then Indy added two more players with Pro Bowl resumes, defensive end Yannick Ngakoue and cornerback Stephon Gilmore, the league's 2019 defensive player of the year.

The combination of Ngakoue and Gilmore should help Indy fill two glaring holes from last season — a consistent pass rush and a pass defense that struggled to close out games.

Third-year receiver Michael Pittman Jr. will be Ryan's top target. Beyond Pittman, though, there are plenty of questions.

Rookie Alec Pierce, a second-round draft pick, improved throughout training camp and has the potential to be a playmaker. Reich is hoping Parris Campbell can stay healthy enough to emerge as the No. 3 receiver.

And the Colts are counting on the combination of Taylor and running back Nyheim Hines to provide more explosiveness in the passing game.

Ryan likes what he's seen.

"I certainly feel like I've gotten a much better feel for the group of players that we have," he said. "I also think they've gotten a better feel for how I operate too and how the ball's coming out and where I expect them to be."

Steelers open new era versus Bengals

BY MITCH STACY
ASSOCIATED PRESS

CINCINNATI — Kenny Pickett — the former Pitt star, Heisman Trophy finalist and first-round draft pick — might be the quarterback of the future for the Pittsburgh Steelers. But for right now, Mitch Trubisky is their man under center.

Trubisky will be the starter when the Steelers open the post-Big Ben era on Sunday against the AFC champion Cincinnati Bengals.

Trubisky, who signed a two-year, $14 million contract with the Steelers in March, got the nod after battling Pickett and three-year backup Mason Rudolph throughout training camp. It will be a fresh start for the 28-year-old after failing live up to expectations with the Chicago Bears and then going through last season backing up Josh Allen in Buffalo.

"I had a really good camp. I came in here with a lot of experience, showed I could lead a team, showed I've been playing really well and throwing the football really well," said Trubisky, the No. 2 overall pick in 2017. "Now we go out there and execute on the field."

His Steelers teammates apparently believe in him, too, installing him as one of five team captains earlier this week.

"We're just really comfortable with what Mitch has shown us," Pittsburgh coach Mike Tomlin said.

The Steelers are going to have to worry a little bit about their defense against quarterback Joe Burrow and the Bengals, who have won the last three games in the series — including a sweep last season as Steelers quarterback Ben Roethlisberger played out his final year.

Burrow, who had to recover from an appendectomy at the start of camp after taking the Bengals on an improbable run to the Super Bowl last season, will operate in front of an improved offensive line with four new starters. In the backfield, Burrow will be joined by running back Joe Mixon, who has been a steady, productive presence the past few years despite the lackluster line play.

Bengals coach Zac Taylor is deferential when describing the trust and respect his third-year quarterback has earned.

"It helps you sleep better at night when you have Joe Burrow playing quarterback for you, I can promise you that," he said.

The Bengals acted quickly in the offseason to shore up an offensive line that allowed 51 sacks last year, plus another 19 in the postseason.

Couple ponders reconnection infatuation

AMY DICKINSON
ASK AMY

Dear Amy: In our late teens some 45 years ago, "Bret" and I shared quite an infatuation. But it cooled when different college choices put 1,500 miles between us.

We each married but are now single again, due to my divorce 15 years ago and Bret losing his wife to COVID in 2020.

Now we're both 63, and we recently connected online. We're feeling a little revived spark of our long-ago romance. Bret thinks we can recapture what we once had.

I'm not as sure about that, more just intrigued at the possibility. I think how in many ways we're very different people today. We're still 900 miles apart but talking about making visits.

If we were to explore a reunion, how do we keep a fond nostalgia of yesteryear from clouding or competing with our vision today?

Also, do you think Bret's greater eagerness could be a rebound from losing his wife fairly recently?

He has said he was very close to her, they'd been married for 34 years, and her death hit him hard.

Seems like this too could affect how clear-eyed we (or at least he) will be. I've never had to deal with anything like that, myself, so I'm tossing it over to you.

— Intrigued

Dear Intrigued: You are presenting rational and considerate issues. Any (or all) of these could derail a relationship between the two of you.

Men who find themselves single in later life do tend to partner up quickly. People who have been in long and happy marriages naturally want to replicate the experience (and might know how to).

Long-lost reunions do not need to be "clear eyed." Fond nostalgia for yesteryear is as good a fantasy as any.

The way to handle this is to … handle it. Whether you take a mad leap or choose to tiptoe in, you two need to get to know one another as seasoned adults with a lifetime of experiences behind you. You should always trust your own core instincts. Your instincts are the best tools you have to determine if a relationship is right for you.

Nightly sibling chats interrupt family time

AMY DICKINSON
ASK AMY

Dear Amy: My wife and I have been married for almost 25 years.

We are now almost empty-nesters with one daughter in high school.

My wife has a brother and a sister about her same age.

I have an issue with their family dynamic that is magnified now that we are older. The two siblings call my wife at all times of the day or night just to chat.

Her brother is divorced and lives by himself, so he has no reference to downtime.

Her sister is married, but she too, calls whenever the mood strikes.

This happens seven days a week.

My wife and I both work and have hectic days.

By 8 p.m. or 9 p.m. we are both ready for dinner (we both contribute equally and share all the household chores) and to spend some quality time together.

Her siblings have no concept of this.

Part of this is my wife's fault because she will always answer their calls no matter what we are doing — and then she will chat about whatever the day's topic might be.

I know that if I try to bring this up my wife will get mad, and the situation will only get worse.

Any suggestions?

— Frustrated with the in-laws

Dear Frustrated: This isn't "partly" your wife's fault/responsibility. The choice to take a call in the evening and converse with a sibling over nothing in particular is entirely her responsibility.

You should sit down with your wife and ask, "Can we agree to a moratorium on being on our phones in the evening ... starting at 9 p.m. or so during the week? I would really like to set aside some time for us to be together as a family without interruptions."

If your wife refuses to discuss this, arrive at a mutual solution, then unfortunately you've got a bigger problem.

ASTROLOGY

ARIES (March 21-April 19) — You can't hurry love, or success. Do not rush the process or recklessly tempt fate. Get some feedback from someone with more expertise and experience before you set the wheels into motion on a new initiative.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) — Follow your heart. You may become fascinated by something unusual or innovative, but a loved one could feel excluded. Find a balance between marching to a different drummer and working cooperatively.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) — Someone may marvel at your intelligence when it is simple common sense that is doing all the work. Maximize your enjoyment of the weekend by finishing your tasks early. Put crucial decisions on the back-burner.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) — Give and forgive. A partner or loved one may not be able to be sensitive to your moods when they are unsettled and feeling competitive. Put the brakes on spending. A financial matter might require your careful consideration.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) — Traditions can be dependable and comforting, but all things need to change, evolve and grow to remain relevant. Something that seems innovative and original today can become tomorrow's status quo. Learn a valuable lesson; try something new.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) — Issues that have been building to a peak might come to a head today or soon. If something or someone has continually caused a problem, you may be tempted to make a clean break. Consider carefully.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22) — Things might not turn out as you planned. Don't expect everyone to accept your latest ideas as they may have concerns that you didn't anticipate. Avoid giving someone the cold shoulder due to a minor disagreement.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21) — You might forget about romantic togetherness when someone introduces you to something new and different. Get a boost of confidence by meeting people outside your normal circle and embracing new perspectives.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21) — Budget your time as well as your money wisely. You may be tempted to splurge on a hobby or take risks. Do whatever is expected but don't go to extremes just to have an afternoon indulging in fun.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) — Clear your head by clearing the decks — if your home or office has become disorganized, this might be a good time to remedy the situation. Avoid making major purchases or investments for the next few days.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) — Make the best of the current situation even if you are feeling controlled by others or by circumstances. Don't consider giving up something that is dependable as a rock for something that leaves you climbing a slippery slope.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20) — Learn from criticism — it's a golden opportunity if you just deconstruct the situation and don't shame yourself. Don't make a big decision when you're in an emotional state. You might feel more reflective than usual.

ASTROLOGY

ARIES (March 21-April 19) — If it is worth having, it could be worth waiting for. You may be torn between having what you desire immediately and slowly doing what is expected. Measure the level of your success by the smile on a loved one's face.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) — Use your head, not your heart, if money is involved. Your trusting nature about a financial issue could lead you to make expensive errors. Don't envy what others have. Instead, build it for yourself in your own life.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) — Change your mind and attitude. Carefully unpack what happened so you can learn from your piece of the situation. This will help you make any needed amends and prevent you from lashing out at the wrong people.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) — You might want what you can't have. When your desires are frustrated, your cravings might be magnified and set into motion. Make changes and more levelheaded decisions about a key purchase tomorrow.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) — Relax after achieving your ambitions. Once you have addressed your obligations, you can reach a pivot point. New information could offer you a more advantageous way to put your money to work on your behalf.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) — You may experience a slight blip in your self-confidence. Any additional burdens you must carry today should lighten soon. Rely on your trusted partner or a loved one to offer consistent love and support.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22) — Do what needs to be done without quibbling so that harmony is retained. Ignore emotionally charged situations and strive to be more businesslike and practical. Remain a rock of reliability for your loved ones.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23- Nov. 21) — A partner might surprise you with a change of plans. Unconditional love means embracing whatever a loved one does or says without judgment. You do not need to agree with someone to be loving and supportive.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21) — Get more mileage from your emotional intelligence. Don't feel threatened if someone adds a favorable spin to their activities. Be more understanding because a loved one may need extra empathy and support now.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) — Regularly set aside time to decompress. Meditating could offer an effective way to quiet your mind and relieve stress. Maintain a wait-and-see attitude about a pending financial issue but go ahead with a family member's passing whim.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) — Work on ways to handle the unexpected so your reaction to unexpected changes won't cause you to freeze in place. Abide by the rules and expectations of others but also find room to exercise your own free will.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20) — Perhaps it is time to look the gift horse in the mouth. You could be offered something that is not what it seems. People see you as sympathetic and so think you might be willing to share their problems and concerns.

India's RBI single in 9th gives Reds 4-3 win over Cubs

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

CHICAGO — Jonathan India hit a tiebreaking RBI single in the ninth inning, and the Cincinnati Reds rallied for a 4-3 victory over the Chicago Cubs on Thursday.

Chicago was ahead 3-2 when Alejo Lopez's liner off Mark Leiter Jr. (2-7) slipped between right fielder Seiya Suzuki and center fielder Rafael Ortega and rolled to the wall for a triple, allowing Nick Senzel to score from first to tie it. Lopez trotted home on when India lined a single to left, his third hit of the game.

India has hits in 18 of this last 20 games to raise his average to .266 after missing time with hamstring injuries and slow start in his second big league season. He pumped his fist after driving in the decisive run.

"That was a very tough game," India said. "It was back and forth, one run, one run.

"It was a Reds baseball win, gritty win. We grinded it out and came out on top."

Diaz (6-2) got five outs for the win. Ian Gibaut worked around a hit in the ninth for his first save.

Kyle Farmer led off the seventh with a solo shot to chase Cubs starter Adrian Sampson, who allowed one run on five hits and walked none. Farmer and Jake Fraley each had two hits for the Reds, who have won two straight and three of four.

Reds starter Luis Cessa permitted two runs on three hits in 5⅔ innings. The right-hander struck out eight and walked none in his longest outing since tossing six innings on July 9, 2018 with the Yankees.

Cessa retired 12 of the first 13 Cubs batters and didn't allowed a hit until Hoerner lined a triple off center fielder TJ Friedl's glove to lead off the bottom of the fifth. Cessa made his fourth start since joining the Reds' rotation on Aug. 22 and fifth this season.

Reds 7, Cubs 1 (Wednesday) — Aristides Aquino hit two more home runs against the Cubs and helped the Cincinnati Reds pull away from Chicago 7-1 Wednesday night.

Mike Minor (4-10), pitching at Wrigley Field for the first time since 2014 with Atlanta, gave up 10 hits in 5⅔ innings but just one run.

REBELS BREAK LOSING SKID

Southwestern volleyball ended its losing streak with a four-set win over Jac-Cen-Del Thursday at home.

The Rebels, who had lost six matches in a row after a 4-2 start to the season, won on Thursday by scores of 22-25, 25-20, 25-18, 25-22.

"Tonight was a great win for us. We really needed some validation that we were working on the right things in practice. And the girls needed to feel their work paying off," Southwestern coach Chris Johnson said. "Amberly Gosman had a great match tonight and was very efficient offensively. Emma Long, Rorie Scroggins and Riley Scroggins did a good job adding to our offensive production also. It's good to get a win in the ORVC."

Riley Scroggins had nine kills, two blocks and five aces, Long had seven kills, a block and eight digs, Raygan Crawford was 24-for-26 hitting with five kills and 12-for-12 serving with two aces, Parker Mefford was 9-for-9 serving with three aces and 27-for-28 passing with 33 digs, Rorie Scroggins was 29-for-33 hitting with six kills and three blocks, and Amberly Gosman was 16-for-17 hitting with six kills and two blocks.

Southwestern, now 5-8 overall and 1-1 ORVC, travels to Milan on Tuesday.

SHAWE FALLS TO CHARLESTOWN

Shawe battled Charlestown down to the wire before losing in five sets on Wednesday.

After dropping the first set 25-14, the Hilltoppers came away with wins in the next two, 25-22 and 25-18, to take a 2-1 lead. But Charlestown won the fourth set 25-13 and then posted a 15-13 win in the tie-breaker to clinch the win.

Payton Lock was 20-for-20 with an ace and 11 digs while Emmaline Leatherman was 12-for-13 serving with three aces and had 21 kills, six blocks and 16 digs. Allison Knoebel was 12-for-14 serving with six kills, three blocks, 10 digs and 14 assists, Ava Turner was 18-for-21 serving with two aces, five kills and four blocks, Harlee Hill was 8-for-9 serving with nine kills and 16 assists, and Lauren Grote had 13 digs.

Shawe, now 8-3 on the season, travels to Lanesville on Tuesday.

TRIMBLE LOSES TO EMINENCE

Trimble County volleyball lost to reigning All "A" Classic Eighth Region champ Eminence in four sets on Wednesday and to Switzerland County 3-0 on Thursday, both at home.

The Warriors, winners of six straight dating back to the opening of that tourney, turned back the Raiders 26-24, 17-25, 25-8, 25-12 to improve to 6-4 on the season.

Switzerland County bounced back from a 25-12 loss in set one to even the match 25-15 in the second set and then held off the Raiders 25-23 in the third.

Trimble, now 7-3 overall and 3-1 in the 31st District, opened the two-day Capital City Classic against Somerset Christian School on Friday against. Play continues today at various location in Frankfort.

Switzerland County, now 5-6, had split two matches earlier in the week — losing 3-0 to Jac-Cen-Del and beating Clarksville 3-1, continues its visits Kentucky schools again on Monday with a match at Carroll County.

HANOVER LOSES AT CENTRE

Hanover College suffered a 3-1 volleyball loss at Centre College on Wednesday.

The Panthers won the first set 25-22 but then lost the next three by scores of 27-25, 25-12 and 25-18.

CC Shick had seven kills for Hanover while Casey Dunn had 21 digs, Ella Reed had two blocks and Aubrey Walton had 14 assists.

Hanover, now 1-4 on the season, competes in the Pam Briggs Classic in Columbus, Ohio this weekend. The Panthers face Capital and Birmingham-Southern on Friday and Thiel on Saturday.

Madison's Lexi Sullivan reaches for a pass during the Cubs' win over East Central on Wednesday.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING CONCERNING A PROPOSED LEASE BETWEEN THE CITY OF MADISON REDEVELOPMENT AUTHORITY AND THE CITY OF MADISON REDEVELOPMENT COMMISSION

The City of Madison Redevelopment Commission (the "Commission"), the governing body of the City of Madison Department of Redevelopment and the City of Madison Redevelopment District (the "District"), proposes to enter into a Lease between the City of Madison Redevelopment Authority (the "Authority"), as Lessor, and the Commission, as Lessee, of Crystal Beach pool, to be acquired and renovated by the Authority (the "Project") in the City of Madison (the "City").

Pursuant to IC 36-7-14-25.2, the Commission will hold a public hearing on the proposed Lease on September 20, 2022, at 3:00 p.m. (local time), at the Madison City Hall located at 101 West Main Street. Madison, Indiana. All interested parties will be provided the opportunity to be heard at the hearing. After the public hearing, which may be adjourned from time to time, the Commission may adopt a resolution authorizing the execution of the proposed Lease if it finds that the service to be provided throughout the term of the proposed Lease will serve the public purpose of the City and is in the best interests of its residents and that the lease rental provided for is fair and reasonable. The Commission may modify the proposed Lease after the hearing but may not increase the rent as set out in this notice.

The proposed Lease will have a term no longer than twenty (20) years. The maximum annual lease rental to be paid by the Commission under the proposed Lease is $425,000. The Commission's lease payments under such Lease shall be payable from a special benefits tax levied on all taxable property within the District, which is coterminous with the boundaries of the City. However, the Commission reasonably anticipates satisfying its payment obligations due under the Lease from other revenues legally available to the Commission, including in particular certain tax increment revenues. The proposed Lease further provides for terms concerning the use, maintenance, repair, operating and utility costs, indemnification and insurance, destruction of the premises, defaults, remedies, option to purchase and miscellaneous other matters.
